PREFACE

THE present Volume XXIX of American Book-Prices Current is a record of a singularly satisfactory season. Important sales, exhibiting every phase of book-collecting, were marked by a general rise in prices. Early in the preparatory work it was hoped that by discarding all entries under $7.50 it would be possible to reduce materially the bulk of the catalogue, but the season's sales offered so great a number of new titles, and the prices were generally so good that the problem of elimination was as difficult as before.

For purposes of easy references, this year's catalogue lists Broad-sides, not in a separate division, but in the body of the book, under author when possible, or with sufficient description to identify them. As the interest in illustrated books, particularly those with colored plates, steadily increases, collations have been given with slightly greater fulness than in past years.

One of the most remarkable collections of recent years, that of Illustrated Books, Manuscripts and Drawings, the property of a Philadelphia Collector, was dispersed on April 16-18, at the American Art Association. The high points of this sale were Orme's "British Field Sports," which brought $5300.00; Hamilton's "Months," at $7900.00, and a set of Wheatley's "Cries of London" at $9900.00. Other interesting items were a copy of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," of 1679, at $2000.00, Blake's "Illustrations to the Book of Job," at $3125.00 and his "Visions of the Daughters of Albion," at $1450.00; Goya's "Caprichos," at $1150.00; Mudford's "History of the Campaign in the Netherlands," at $2000.00, and a set of Kate Greenaway's Almanacs, presentation copies to Mary Anderson Navarro, at $1125.00. This collector had specialized in books in original bindings or parts, and their condition was uniformly excellent. A sale of somewhat similar content was that of the late Clarence Bement, which offered an interesting array of costume books and theatrical tracts and memoirs. The prices in the latter class ranged generally above those of similar collections, promising a general increase of values in this class of works.

The classic Americana was unusually well represented in the collection of the late Charles Eliot Norton, sold by the American Art Association with that of the late James Terry, of Hartford. This sale offered two important Mather items: Cotton Mather's "Accomplish'd Singer," at $610.00, and Increase Mather's "First Principles of New England," at $850.00; John Norton's "Heart of New England Rent," sold at $1025.00. There was also offered a choice copy of one of the finest and perhaps the rarest of early American illustrated works, "The Hudson River Portfolio," engraved by John Hill after W. G. Wall's drawings, which brought $950.00. This sale also offered one of several extra-illustrated copies of Irving's "Life of Washington," this copy bringing $1000.00; others sold in the Baker and Sheehan Sales at $2100.00 and $2200.00. The season was unexpectedly rich in extra-illustrated books, many so important as to deserve citation as a matter of record, the most notable being Doctor Thomas Addis Emmet's copy of John Sanderson's "Biography of the Signers to the Declaration of Independence," with an unusually fine set of autographs, which brought $19,750.00, the highest price of the year. Mr. Norton's second collection, that of American and English Men of Letters offered some exceptionally interesting titles, among them a presentation copy of Lowell's "Commemoration Ode" at $1400.00 and a First edition of Fitzgerald's translation of the Rubáiyát at the same price. This collection was particularly rich in inscribed copies, mainly of First editions. Two libraries of association interest as well as intrinsic value sold by the American Art Association were those of Enrico Caruso and Lillian Russell (Mrs. Alexander Moore), the latter sold with the collections of F. H. Brooks, J. B. Rhodes, and the late J. B. Trevor.

A sale of enormous importance to the collector and bibliographer was that of the Later Library of Herschel V. Jones, at the Anderson Gallery. This collection, entirely of Elizabethan and early Seventeenth Century authors or translators, contained only 212 titles, but these were of such rarity, many unknown to the sales-room, as to realize perhaps the highest average price of the year. Most of the volumes were in choice condition and many in original or early bindings. A copy of the 1620 Boccaccio sold for $2400.00; Chapman's Homer, First Edition, $1950.00; Clarke's "Polymanteia," $2750.00; Garnier's "Tragedie of Antoine," $2950.00; Greene's "Morando," $3200.00; a remarkable list of Lyly's books, among them "Alexander Campaspe and Diogenes," sold at $4350.00, and "The Woman in the Moon" at $2300.00; Marston's "Scourge of Villainie," $2450.00; Munday's "Fidele and Fortunio," $3400.00; Nash's "Christ's Tears over Jerusalem," $2650.00, and a superlative copy of Shakespeare's "Poems," of 1640, at $4800.00, while a copy of Marlowe's "Tragedie of Dido," brought the second highest price of the year, $12,900.00.

The collection of Books and Manuscripts of extreme rarity from the Library of Mrs. Luther Livingston and others brought deservedly high prices. Among the items was a set of Balzac First Editions at $1000.00, Delille's "La Pitie" on vellum, at $2200.00, and a Kelmscott Chaucer, also on vellum, at $3525.00.

The collection from the Library of David T. Joyce offered a list of fine and rare books in many fields, fine bindings, and many interesting autographic pieces, among the latter a copy of George Moore's "Memoirs of My Dead Life," filled with the author's additions and corrections for the revised edition, which brought $3700.00. This sale also yielded a Kelmscott Chaucer at $825.00, and a First edition of Hawthorne's "Fanshawe" at $700.00.

Early American literature has never been given fuller representation than in the collections of the late Henry Cady Sturges. Part I contained the largest collection ever offered, with an array of new titles in Poetry, Fiction, and the Drama. Part II contained a copy of Frederick Bates's "Oration before St. Louis Lodge No. 111," the first book in English published west of the Mississippi, which brought $910.00. Among other collections of Americana were those of George A. Hart; Part IV of Doctor O'Brien's Library, Duplicates from the Huntington Library, which contained a copy of the "Colecion de los Principales Tratados" issued by the Junta de Formento de California, selling for $910.00, and Zenas Leonard's "Narrative" at $1700; the Library of the late William Winters, which contained Bradford's "Laws of the New York Colony," at $775.00, and an exceedingly interesting California item, R. B. Mason's "Laws for the Better Government of California" which brought $3150.00. The outstanding collection of Americana, however, was the mass of Source Material, of great rarity and high value, many titles hitherto unknown in the sales-room, sold at the Anderson Galleries on November 27. Among them may be mentioned S. F. Austin's "Esposicion al Publico" at $1075.00, one of the 3 known copies of the Mormon "Constitution of the State of Deseret," 1849, bringing $1030.00, a file of the San Francisco Daily Morning Call, at $1275.00, another of the Nevada City California National Gazette at $710.00, and the scarce work of Puelles on the Texas-Mexican Boundary, which brought $900.00.

The Heartman sales-rooms continue to offer a wide variety of early American imprints and works of related interest, many of the rarest Broad-sides, Almanacs, and other early Americana coming from this source. The series of sales of autographs and American and other books and prints conducted by Mr. Stan. V. Henkels maintained their high standard of interest. One of the rarest items was in the Kearns sale, a file of the Salem, Ill., Advocate, 1856-65, covering the most important period of the career of Abraham Lincoln. This file, which sold for $910.00, belonged to the Advocate's editor, J. W. Merritt, and contained many of his annotations. The autographic Material relating to Washington and Franklin and their period was unusually rich and interesting.

The Walpole Galleries offered a large number of sales of high artistic importance. The increase in the number of Japanese art books listed this year is derived almost entirely from this source. Sales of dramatic interest were also numerous, including those of a portion of William Winter's Library and much autographic material pertaining to Edmund Kean and the early British stage.

It is fitting that a word of regret should be said here upon the passing of so able and conscientious a bibliographer as the late Mr. Edward Turnbull, founder of the Walpole Galleries. Throughout a long and honorable career his work was marked by a keen sense of book values, sensitive discrimination and sound scholarship.

As the volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the work, the following explanation of the scheme of this work and the abbreviations used, is reprinted from the earlier issues.

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first part of the title) is set in black-faced capitals.

Club or Press publications are (generally) under the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are entered under their subject. The titles of the various works of an author, printed in black-faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the place where printed, the printer (in a few cases), the date, and size of volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work listed. Following this general description is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded, if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.

Third. The name of the sale, where a name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. Capital letter, indicating the name of the Auctioneer under whose management the sale took place.

A. is the Anderson Galleries.

B. is Charles F. Heartman.

G. is the American Art Association.

H. is Stan. V. Henkels.

W. is the Walpole Galleries.

Fifth. The date of the sale. In case of the sales of more than a single day's duration, this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price for the lot, not per volume.
